SOURCE

1. During October 1946, the following Yugoslav troops arrived in Southern Serbia and Macedonia:
  - 3 Motorized Infantry Divisions
  - 3 Motorized Artillery Divisions
  - 1 Armored Division
  - 1 AT Division
  - 1 Mountain Regiment
  - 2 KNOJ Battalions.
2. It is probable that the above-mentioned units are from the 3rd Army, which was deployed along the Hungarian frontier with HQ at Novi Sad, and commanded by General Kosta Nagy. These units further replaced nine divisions of the 5th Army commanded by General Vaso Jovanovich.
3. It is reported that the divisions along the Greek frontier total 17, apart from those units now included in divisions.
4. General Kosta Nagy is of Hungarian origin, and has commanded the 3rd Army since March 1946. He is considered one of Tito's best general officers.
